

JASON PEACOCK DIES

WELL KNOWN WESTERN HOW-ARD RESIDENT EXPIRES
AFTER FEW DAYS ILLNESS

July 30—1937

Jason L. Peacock, 79, a resident the greater part of his life in New London and West Middleton communities, died at 4:45 o'clock Friday afternoon at his home east of West Middleton, following an illness since Monday of complications.

Mr. Peacock is survived by the widow, Mrs. Amy Peacock to whom he was married 56 years ago; three children, Miss Ethel Peacock, a teacher in the schools in Hammond, Neal of Knoxville Tenn., Mrs. Marie Nichols of Richmond, and five grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements will not be made until word is received from the daughter Ethel, who is on an eastern trip, and has not yet been located.
